

The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, December 18. 1705.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Dec. 19.

From the Camp near Lonato, Dec. 2.

THE 26th of last Month, the Duke of Vendome decamp'd from Medoli to advance to Castiglione. The Army march'd in 3 Columns, the first on the Left was compos'd of all the Foot, that in the middle of all the Horse, and the 3d of the Baggage. In that Order they travers'd a Plain 2 Miles broad, the Enemy who were within twice Cannon-shot making no motion to attack them. Being come to the Mountain of Solferino, the Foot turn'd to the Left along the side of the Mountain towards Castiglione, being follow'd by the Baggage; and the Horse remain'd in the Plain in Battalia, till those 2 Columns had fil'd off, and then took up their Quarters in Solferino and a neighbouring Village. The Head Quarters were fix'd at Castiglione, where 5 Brigades of Foot were posted, as were 4 others at the Village of Exenta 2 Miles from Castiglione, and 2 others in the Cassines between those 2 Places. The 27th the 2 Armies lay still: But the 28th the Enemy abandon'd Carpene-dole, and caus'd their Left to march towards Calcinato. The Duke of Vendome went to take a View of them, and perceiving they were advancing with Expedition towards Lonato, he order'd Prince Pio, Major General of the King of Spain's Troops, to march with 4 Brigades of Foot and 6 Cannon, and possess himself of the Cassines that are on the rising Grounds on this side of Lonato; from which rising Grounds it was discover'd the Enemy were arriv'd near that little Town, and had posted a Body of Foot in the Ditch of it. They are encamp'd with their Right at Montechiaro, and their Left at Lonato, having before them a Naviglio call'd the Fossa Seriola, the Banks of which serve them for an Intrenchment. The King's Army are possess'd of the Hills from Exenta where they have their Left, near to the Lake of Garda, and are lodg'd in Cassines so advantagiously situated, that the Troops are posted almost as in a regular Camp. The Horse, 2 Brigades excepted that are at Exenta, are at Rivoltella on the Border of the Lake of Garda, and in a neighbouring Village. The Enemy have been 2 Days and 2 Nights in Order of Battle, without Tents, expos'd to the Weather, and did not begin till the Day before Yesterday to lodge themselves in the Villages and Cassines of the Ground they are on. They have posted a strong Body along the Naviglio to prevent our passing it. The 3 Days that the Armies have fac'd each other, they have cannonaded each other incessantly: But with great Disadvantage to the Imperialists, because they are expos'd on the Plain, whereas the King's Troops are cover'd by the Hills. Deserters that came to us last Night, report the Enemy have had above 300 Men kill'd by our Cannon. They have receiv'd some Troops from Germany; but the Duke of Vendome has absolutely cut them off from the Mincio and the Mantuan. The 8 Battallions detach'd from Piemont, having embark'd at Alexandria, are arriv'd at the Oglio; twill be some Days before the 12 Squadrons that follow them arrive there. The Count de Medavy has receiv'd Order from the Duke of Vendome, to joyn those Troops with 9 Battallions and 6 Squadrons that he commands on the Oglio, and to advance towards the Enemy, to incommodate their Rear.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Dec. 22.

Leiden, Dec. 22. The Letters from Prince Eugene of Savoy's Army, due to Day, are not arriv'd. But Letters from Trent of the 6th Instant, advice that General Staremburg had pass'd through that City, in his Way to the Court of Vienna from Prince Eugene's Army; whence tis concluded Prince Eugene designs to stay with the Army all this Winter.

Turin, Nov. 25. The Duke de la Feuillade has withdrawn all his Troops out of the Castles and Villages about Turin and Afti, to send them into Winter Quarters in the Vercellois and Montferrat. Men are set to work to make a Line round our Citadel, and his Royal Highness having resolv'd to repair the Out-fortifications on the Doria that were damag'd by the late Floods, Proclamation has been made that those who will undertake that Work give in their Proposals within 3 Days. The Dutchess Royal being near her Time, publick Prayers are made for her safe Delivery. Count Thaun, who since Count Staremburg's Departure commands the Imperialists, keeps in Afti with a strong Garrison.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Dec. 19.

From the Camp before Nice, Dec. 2. The bad Weather we have had for several days, has retarded the perfecting of the Batteries; however we hope they will be finish'd in 5 or 6 days. Those on the Hill of St. Charles were finish'd 3 days ago, and we are working on those below Montalbon; where 50 pieces of heavy Cannon will be planted, to batter the Works on the East-side of the Castle, from the Horn-work to the Sea. The Besieged make a great Fire from their Cannon, but with little Execution, not above 30 Men having been kill'd or wounded since the Siege began. Count de Laval Collonel of the Regiment of Bourbon, has receiv'd a Contusion on his side by a Cannon Ball. The 30th ult. an Officer and 16 Soldiers that were plac'd as a Guard at an advanc'd Post, deserted to us.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Dec. 22.

From the Camp before Nice, Dec. 6. By the 8th of this Month we shall have in Battery 60 Pieces of Cannon, twenty four and thirty six Pounders; with 15 Mortars that cast Bombs of 500 Weight. The furthest of our Batteries is within 250 Fathom of the Castle. This Castle is built on the Top of a high Rock, made so steep either by Nature or Labour, that 'tis absolutely impossible to climb it; but on the side towards the City the Rock is sloping, tho' pretty steep too: And that being the only part that can be attack'd, the Duke of Savoy has caus'd it to be fortify'd by 3 works, in the Form of an Amphitheatre, one about another, with good Ditches, and a double Covert-way that is undermin'd. The 4th some Barracks of our Camp, in which were some Arms and other Ammunition were accidentally burnt.

From the Paris Gazette, dated December 19.

Paris, December 19. A Courier that came the 13th Instant from the Camp before Montmeillan, has brought an Account, that the Count de Santena

Gouverneur

Gouvernour of the Fort having offer'd to capitulate, the Chevalier dela Fare who commanded the Blockade, agreed with him, that he should deliver up a Gate the 11th of this Month, which was done; and that the Garrison should march out the 17th with Arms and Baggage and 2 Pieces of Cannon.

From the Paris Letter, dated Dec. 18.

Paris Dec. 18. There was found in Montmeillan, a great number of Cannon, with 2000 Weight of Powder; part of which Powder will be employ'd in blowing up the Fortifications and all the Houses of that Fort, so that not one Stone will be left upon another.

From the Leiden Gazeze, dated Dec. 17.

Geneva, Dec. 8. Monsieur de Vallieres arriving with his Troops within a League of this Place, our Magistrates sent him a Present Yesterday of a Trout weighing 25 Pound. The Duke of Savoy's Troops that had posted themselves in the Castle of Yvoire, have abandon'd it, as well because of the Approach of Monsieur de Vallieres, as because they had Advice the Gouvernour of Moutneillan wanting Provisions had offer'd to surrender that Place to the French, on honourable Conditions, if he were not reliev'd by the end of this Month.

London, December 18.

The Transport Ships from Barcelona came thence under Convoy of 4 Men of War. The Revenge and Yarmouth are arriv'd in the Downes; the Warspite is arriv'd at Portsmouth: And 24 Transports are arriv'd in several Ports. But the Nottingham and 16 Transports are still wanting.

The Convoys from Newfoundland were the Loo and Falkland Prize. The Loo coming in at the Needles on Thursday last, was thrown ashore: The Commander Captain Bridges, and all the Crew (8 Men excepted, who are said to be lost,) clim'd up a Cliff, and sav'd themselves. The Ship has lost all her Masts; but sits whole, and 'tis hop'd may be got off. The Falkland is arriv'd in the Downes. In hard Weather these Convoys were separated from all the Merchant Ships they had under their Charge. One of those Merchant Ships is arriv'd at Plymouth, 1 at Weymouth, and 1 at Dartmouth. They came out about 40 Sail from Newfoundland: The greatest Part of them were bound for Portugal, under Convoy of the Anglesea and another Man of War; from whom those bound for England parted by on Way.

Seven Men of War bound for Holland, Convoys to several Merchant Ships; which Men of War are ('tis said) to come back with the Duke of Marlborough; continued in Yarmouth Roads the 14th Instant, detain'd by contrary Winds. And the Fleet from the East Country, consisting of 28 Ships, with their Convoys, of whose Arrival we had an Account last Week, are kept in the same Roads by contrary Winds.

Yesterday Morning an Express brought Advice to a Merchant of this City, that the Charles Galley was arriv'd at Bristol. She was one of the Jamaica Fleet that was scatter'd in a Storm; and came from New England the 14th of November with the Jersey Man of War, which had 4 other Ships of the said Jamaica Fleet under her Convoy, viz. the Johnson Frigate, the Margaret, the London-bridge (which was taken in the Voyage,) and a 4th whose Name we knew not.

Yesterday likewise, our Merchants trading to Hamburgh receiv'd the good News of the Arrival of the Hamburgh Fleet in Solebay.
